93 James Rucker obtained a 400 acre patent on Sugar Run and the of Anthoneys Creek.

94 James Rucker deeded 75 acres of it to James Underwood and 75 lan Underwood, with instructions that Millie Underwood, their mother have peaceable possession (Greenbrier deeds 1p417, 419).

95 James Underwood sold his 75 acres to Lemuel Rucker (deed 4p1
Lemuel Rucker sold this 75 acres and 150 additional acres of

Of Nathan Underwood's ten children, Elijah is the only one who never owned land. Elijah farmed, nevertheless, as a suit alleged that he was indebted to James and Thomas Barbour, who took Elijah's tobacco in hogsheads and never paid Elijah the difference. In addition to farming, Elijah did some shoemaking. (The administrator of Benjamin Smith d1802 paid Elijah for daughter Susannah Underwood (Elijah's daughter). In 1807 Elijah lived on this land, which joined Michael Wallace's land. Elijah paid personal property tax in Culpeper 1782-1792, and then paid in Madison Co Va 1793-1812.¹ Around 1813 Elijah Underwood moved to Greenbrier County, West Virginia. He paid tax in Greenbrier, most years, from 1815 to 1825. An entry in a Greenbrier order book says: "Elijah Underwood appeared in court & on oath made the following decl(aration): in order to obtain a pension Towit & copied & filed". (Co Ct orders 1832-1838, entry of 6 Oct 1832). This entry is too cryptic to be useful, but the most likely explanation is that Elijah thought he was due a pension for services rendered in the revolution.

Elijah Underwood married 3rd 1819 in Greenbrier County to Betsy Wade, dau of Leonard Wade. Elijah was perhaps over 70, and his bride was about 23. Elijah apparently died in the 1830s, but there is no estate settlement. It is not known when or where his wife Elizabeth died, but she is mentioned in the Greenbrier will of her father Leonard Wade (book 2p293, written 1842, probated 1846). Nathan Underwood was a very old man when he died in 1802 in Madison County, Virginia. He may well have been the Nathan Underwood who was born in 1703 in Middlesex County, Virginia. (See Part 3 of this book).

Nathan Underwood (d1802) was possibly in the Orange-Culpeper area of Virginia by early 1734, when a Nathan Underwood (mark "T") witnessed a note.

Around the year 1742 Nathan Underwood moved to Augusta County, where he and two persons named George Anderson (probably father and son) served in the same company of militia. In 1744 Nathan Underwood, "shuemaker" of Orange County, bought 100 acres from Henry Dooley, the farm being located on the South River of the Shenandoah in present Augusta County.²

By 1745 Nathan Underwood moved back to present Madison County, Virginia. In August of 1745 Nathan bought 50 acres on Elk Run in Madison, and in November Nathan sold his 100 acres that lay in Augusta County.³

In 1753 George Anderson (d1778) sold to Nathan Underwood a 100 acre tract on Elk Run, and in 1769 Joshua Jackson sold Nathan another tract on Elk Run.⁴ Around 1768 Nathan Underwood bought 310 acres on the Conway River. (This deed is not recorded, but Nathan probably bought this 310 acres from Jeremiah Collins of Gloucester). In 1770 Nathan Underwood & wife Elizabeth sold 200 acres of this Conway River tract to Hugh Roberts, and in 1771 Nathan sold the remaining 110 acres of this tract to William Sims.⁵

In 1774 Nathan Underwood bought 206 acres on Maple Run, near his Elk Run tracts, the grantor being William Walker. By 1779 Nathan sold 106 acres of this tract to John Beadles, but this deed was not recorded. In 1783 Nathan sold back to William Walker the remaining 100 acres of this tract.⁶

In 1775 Nathan Underwood deeded 52 acres on the east side of Elk Run to William Walker, and in recompense William Walker deeded 100 acres to Joshua Underwood, son of Nathan.

In 1775 Nathan Underwood deeded 52 acres on the east side of Elk Run to William Walker, and in recompense William Walker deeded 100 acres to Joshua Underwood, son of Nathan.

Nathan Underwood was not particularly active in community affairs, but occasionally witnessed papers and appraised estates. In 1747 he witnessed deeds involving Thomas Cofer and the Rucker family. In 1763 Nathan Underwood was an appraiser of the estates of John Powell and Thomas Rucker. Nathan was witness to Thomas Cofer's will, written in 1782.⁸

Nathan Underwood wrote a will in 1801, in which he bequeathed specific property to Nathan's grandson Robert Underwood who was to take care of Nathan; to Nathan's son Gideon; and to Nathan's son Joseph of Georgia. Nathan directed that the remainder of his property be sold and distributed among all of children. This will was never probated.⁹

In February 1802 the Madison County Court appointed Gideon Underwood, Elijah rwood, and James Smoot a committee to manage the estate of Nathan Underwood "an aged and infirm old man" who is "deprived of his reason".¹⁰ This was likely, most likely, as he was indeed quite elderly.

In Underwood died on 9 August 1802.¹¹ At his death, Nathan lived on tract CB (see part 6 of this book), where he had lived for many years.

Nathan Underwood estate dragged through the courts for several decades, as was never settled. When a committee was appointed to manage his estate in January 1802, Nathan's estate was listed as 240 acres and 10 slaves.

Nathan's will was not probated on grounds that he was not competent (gentile) when he wrote it in 1801. In 1805 letters of administration granted to Gideon Underwood. Gideon moved to Kentucky in 1817, and in 1824. In 1825 the sheriff of Madison County, Virginia, was ordered to collect the estate of Gideon Underwood and the estate of Nathan Underwood appear to be no entries in the order books showing that either was settled.¹²

In 1806 George Marshall Head claimed two shares of the Nathan Underwood brought suit against the estate. Decrees were filed in 1827 and the suit was not settled. In 1873 'Head vs Underwood' was transferred to circuit court, and in 1874 the suit was dismissed. It is not clear why George Marshall Head claimed two shares of the Nathan Underwood - he certainly did not claim by inheritance. Most likely, he had a financial claim against the estate due to a prior business loan of some sort.¹³

INTRODUCTION

THE UNDERWOODS OF ENGLAND.*

The Underwoods are of distinctly English descent and all lines of the name trace back sooner or later to an English ancestry. It has not been possible, however, with the older lines of Underwood in America to identify their English origin with any of the known English lines of the name, but no very exhaustive search in this direction has been made. It is quite possible that the actual connection between some of the American and English lines could be shown by a careful and systematic search of English records, especially the "Quaker Records" preserved at Devonshire House, Bishopsgate Street, London, E. C.; Parish Registers; Non-Conformist Registers; and sailing lists preserved at various English ports. Very little has been done in the way of gathering information concerning the English ancestry of the family. It was Dr. Underwood's intention, however, to make some re-was Dr. Underwood's intention, however, to make some researches on the more ancient history of the family in England and just before his death he had begun an extensive correspondence with Mr. Aylmer J. Underwood of London, England, a member of the English branch of the family. This correspondence gave promise of throwing much light on the English ancestry of at least some of the American lines of Underwood, as Mr. A. J. Underwood was a man well informed in regard to the English family and had had much practical experience in searching English records. His personal interest in the genealogy of the family led him to coöperate heartily with Dr. Underwood in his work. Only a few weeks before the latter's death he sent him a beautifully illuminated manuscript of the Underwood arms. The following account of the English history of the family is based chiefly on the correspondence here mentioned. The origin of one's family name is always a matter of much Reuben Underwood is said to have been a soldier of the Revolution and was with General Green in his retreat through the Carolinas. He is said to have been killed at the Battle of Guilford Court House, N. C., 15 March, 1781. According to another family tradition he was killed in Waxhaw, N. C. In yet another line of the family where his name had been forgotten he was said to have lived in what is now West Virginia and to have been killed by a tree falling on him. Others state that it was his son, James, who was thus killed by a tree.

* There is no proof that the Reuben Underwood above is the same as the Reuben Underwood son of no. 1145 but the circumstantial evidence suggests the possibility and the assumption seems to fit.

Jehu Underwood was a farmer. He first moved from Greenbriar county in what is now West Virginia to Kentucky in 1794. At that time the country, still overrun by hostile and fierce Indians, was dangerous to travel through and the journey could be made only in strong companies and by means of ox wagons and pack horses. His second son, James, was born on the way. He settled in the wilderness of Kentucky near what is now Owensville, in Bath county. As the region was much disturbed and unsafe he soon returned with his family to Virginia and bought back his original farm. He remained there until 1809 and then once more ventured into the western wilderness and again settled on the same land near Owensville which he had abandoned fourteen years before and remained there until his death, date unknown. His widow, Elizabeth Richards Underwood, afterward moved on with the children into Missouri and d. in Louisiana, Pike Co., Mo., probably about 1835-1840.

1157. James Underwood of Perry, Ralls Co., Mo., (son of Jehu 1156 —) b. 30 Sept., 1794; m. 9 Oct., 1817, Elizabeth Burbridge, a dau. of Roland and Elizabeth Burbridge, and had children:

i. JULIA ANNA, b. 31 Aug., 1818; m. 12 July, 1838, Alvin Powell.

ii. ALFRED, b. 25 Nov., 1819; d. 13 May, 1847.

iii. MARY JANE, b. 19 Feb., 1822; m. in April, 1849, Joseph D. Tatlow; d. 24 July, 1902.

iv. MARTHA, b. 27 Oct., 1823; d. 12 Sept., 1844.

v. GEORGE MONROE, b. 30 Aug., 1825; d. 14 Feb., 1845.

vi. JAMES HARVEY, b. 1 June, 1829. (See no. 1158.)

James Underwood was a farmer. He was born on the "Wilderness Road" during his father's first migration into Kentucky. He spent his childhood in Greenbriar county, now West Virginia, living with his grandmother, but returned to Kentucky with his father in 1809. He lived near Owensville, Ky., until after his marriage and the births of all of his children except the youngest.

"What I Remember My Grandfather Tell Of The Underwood Family"

(Dec. 30, 1969) - As Told By Forest Underwood

(Nov. 1, 1975) - Edited And Rewritten By Leonard G. Underwood

We gratefully acknowledge all of those who have contributed to this "Family Tree". And most of all we thank God that we were born "Free".

They came to Anthony Creek before any settlers were on Beaver Creek. They came with the Hakmans, from Connecticut state. The Underwoods, came from England to Connecticut, from there to Anthony Creek. Michael Underwood's father was taken to the Mexican War and never heard of again. There were four boys, Gabe, Michael, John and Jim. John was a preacher and went to Virginia. Jim settled in Kentucky. Gabe settled on Droop Mountain. Michael settled on Panther Creek. There were four girls. I heard him speak of Ann. One married a Cochran. And two married Youngs, and one married Silvers. As he said we was kin to Silvers,. Ann married Timothy Gum. Mike married Elizabeth Gum. To them were born five children. Wesley, Jess, Wallace and Howard. One daughter, Elizabeth. Wesley married Chathem Moore. Wallace married Agnes Sharp. They were the parents of six children. Forest, Lanty and Penick. Girls Lucy, Pearly and Gosha. Wesley family, were Mike, Fletcher, Clawson, Harson and Kenny. Girls Anna, Alby, Mattie and Elza. Howard married Della Sharp. To them were born three children who died in infancy. His second wife was Effie Sharp. To them five children were born. Origin, Leo, Watson, Lula and Lana, who died small. Elizabeth had two children. Olivia Ann and Howard. One died in infancy. People that i heard him speak of was grandfather Chapman. He called him grandfather Noaken.

And the Aldermans, were uncle Saul and uncle Tim, with whom he made his home with in his younger days. And the Wades were uncle Mack and two others he called uncles. I can not recall... but, seems, as one was a Morgan. Grandmother, brother and sister Jess lived on Anthony Creek. Uncle Bride lived in Monterey, Virginia. Uncle Tim who went to Braxton County, West Virginia. Their children were Chapman and Frank. Girls Sally and Zerlin, with married children Laura and Monday. Laura married Willy Wanleess. Uncle Bride Gum: To them one son. Uncle Jess had... as i recall, John and Warick. He had girls. One married John Pane who lived at Siebert, West Virginia. Underwood and the Sharps, also the Buzards. Andrew Sharp's father James Sharp settled on Beaver Creek. James raised a large family, nine or ten children. One girl married a Gay. One a Bob Rider and one a Clark. One a Jordan and one a Cakely. Uncle Bill Sharp married a Buzard, a sister to my grandmother Sharp Buzard. Andrew Sharp my grandfather married Sarah Buzard. To them were eleven children. Rachel Jean who died in childhood. Allan who went to Kansas and died. William who married Elizabeth Barlow. To their union were four children, Watson and Albert. Girls- Effie and Lula. Lula married Dave Johnson and there were to them nine children. Watson married Elizabeth Mace. To them were three girls, Ivy, Grace and Mertle. Milton Sharp married Effey Rogers. To them four girls, one dying in childhood. Ethel, Edna and Carnie. Ethel married a Slavens and went to Texas. George married Gennie Dean. To them were two children, Frank and Laura. She married Henry Ervin. To them four Origin W. Underwood son of the late Howard and Effie Sharp Underwood married Eula Mary Alderman daughter of the late George and Nene Kellison Alderman. To them were born eight children. Pauline, who married Percy Oliver Hansford. Born to them were three children, Wayne Hansford, Vickie Hansford Minnich and Larry all of Cincinnati, Ohio. Richard H. Underwood of Beaver Creek, who remains single at this time. Leonard G. Underwood, who married Geraldine Rose Page. They had two children, Leonard Allan and Lisa Gail all of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Anna Mary, who married Raymond Richardson, having an only child Deanna, all living in Columbus, Ohio. Janet Lee, who married Calvin Beck making their home in Whitesville, West Virginia. They had no children. Mildred, who married Nathan Symes. They had six children all of Long Island, New York. June Anetta, Debra, Charlotte and Cheryl. And boys Nathan and Origin Jr. Shelby Jean, who married Willie Ryder having five children. Steve, Maria, Chad, Thane and Johny all living at Huntersville, West Virginia. And the youngest of the clan Josephine, who married Alonzo G. Dean having four children. Kim, Mathew, Lonnie and Ann of Beaver Creek.

My feeble attempt in this endeavor is not meant to be construed as being the one and only "Family Tree". It is far from being that. It has only been put together to serve as a little more than nothing until a more precise version is written by someone. Maybe it will help a small child some day, when he asks, "dad", where did our ancestors come from?
